Donate to the Band Directors' Association (Singapore) & support our students!

The Band Directors' Association (Singapore), also known as BDA(S), was founded in 1996 for professional band directors who are directing/teaching wind/brass bands in the local schools, tertiary institutions and the respective community groups. It is a non-profit organization involving active band directors, who serves as volunteers in the executive council, who meet regularly to discuss resources and programmes needed to continue the professional development of the band movement in Singapore.

BDA(S) organizes workshops and seminars regularly for their members and the band community. With these activities, we aim to develop and sustain communication among professionals who are directly involved in the band community. BDA(S) also serves as a professional body for our band directors to engage constant communication and discussion with all ministries involved in the development and improvement of band curriculum and instructions.

As BDA(S) is a non-profit organization, we depend on donations / sponsorships to run meaningful music-related events and also to assist deserving students in reducing their financial burden when attending enrichment music courses / events. Your support and generosity, however little, will go a long way in making a significant difference to the lives and future of these students and their families.
